

Educating Women for Power and Principled Leadership

About Simmons School of Management

Simmons School of Management is the only business school in the U.S. designed specifically for women. We offer top-quality MBA, Leadership Development and Undergraduate Programs, as well as MBA Certificates in Entrepreneurship and Healthcare Administration. Our annual Leadership Conference is the world's premier leadership event for women, consistently attracting world-class leaders from business, government, education, media and the arts. Simmons is also home to the Center for Gender in Organizations, providing insights into gender and diversity in the workforce.

“The Simmons MBA program has been the path to leadership opportunities for some of our most valued associates. With the benefit of a Simmons MBA, they are able to combine their analytical perspective with a deep understanding of how strategy and execution come together. In every part of our business, they are using their talents and training to make real contributions to our success.”

BRIAN MOYNIHAN, President, Global Corporate & Investment Banking, Bank of America
