Senior Thesis in Biology

Departmental Honors

The Department of Biology offers the opportunity for students in any of our five majors and education track to receive Departmental Honors upon graduation.

Page 69 Description Change

Major in Biology

Biology is the study of life and includes a broad range of biological disciplines. Undergraduates are well-prepared for graduate studies and careers with a strong foundation in biological principles and methodology, as a result of the department's student centered classroom, laboratory, and research experiences.

Page 69 Changes in Prerequisite Listings and Description Change

Major in Biology

Prerequisites:

CHANGE CHEM 114 to CHEM 224
CHANGE CHEM 226 to CHEM 216

Students are required to take CHEM 111 or 113, 224, and 225 as well as MATH 120 or MATH 118 (or MATH 227 or MATH 229). Students interested in medical or dental school or in pursuing graduate study in certain areas of biology should plan to include additional courses in CHEM 216, MATH 121, and a year of physics. Students interested in careers in dentistry, medicine, optometry, podiatry, veterinary medicine, and the allied health professions should consult the health professions advisor.

4 sem. hrs. Prereq.: COMM 122

The field of journalism is changing rapidly- employing new technologies and tools to research, report, display and disseminate news. Students examine the latest methodologies and trends in broadcast, narrowcast, and interactive media by looking at industry innovators. Using those examples, students continue to hone their own reporting. While working on verifying sources, students will gain experience and confidence to tell stories in a 24-hour news cycle, effectively utilizing the latest industry tools of storytelling. Moura

COMM 269 Globalization on a Shoestring (S)

CHANGE TO: Globalization: Intercultural Communication, (S)

4 sem. hrs. Prereq.: COMM 122 and/or COMM 163.

Gives the student both a “virtual study abroad” and literal study abroad experience. In conjunction with schools and participants from around the world, students get to work in a cross-cultural setting using streaming and social media, examining social, cultural, and political issues from a global perspective. A spring study abroad component has been added to this course. Scott

PROGRAM CLOSURES

The Simmons Education Department is ending the licensure programs for middle and high school and for English as a Second Language over the next several years. These programs will not be available to students entering Simmons in the fall of 2017 (class of 2021).

Students who entered Simmons in the fall of 2015 or 2016 (classes of 2019 or 2020) are eligible for these 4-1 programs. They must complete the master's portion by 2021 at the latest in order to earn their licenses in middle or high school teaching or in ESL. Careful advising will ensure access to the required courses as they become less frequent.

DUAL LICENSE PROGRAM

Students who wish to obtain both the Elementary and the Moderate Special Needs (Pre-8) license may apply for the Dual License Program, which is an expanded MAT program. This is a 4-1 program that includes the complete Elementary program and additional Special Education courses with a Moderate Special Needs practicum. This program yields full initial licenses in both fields, but is designed especially for the teacher who wants to be fully prepared to serve learners with diverse needs within the general education classroom.

Courses Offered 2017-2018

Fall 2017-2018

GEDUC 529/AST 529 Race, Culture, Identity, and Achievement (F-1)

4 sem. hrs.

Examines historical, theoretical and empirical studies to understand, explain, predict and intervene in the school performance of students of color in the United States. Studies variables affecting the school performance of African Americans, West Indian Immigrants, Chinese Americans, Vietnamese Americans, Puerto Ricans, and Mexican Americans. Examines educational practices and institutional and cultural formations that promote school achievement among Black and Latino students. - Perry

Spring 2017-2018

EDUC 212 - Performing Identities and Resistance in Culturally Diverse Educational Settings (S-1)

4 sem. hrs.

Interrogates the interactions between cultural identities, cultural consciousness and academic achievement. Students will reflect on their own identities and academic histories as consider how to create multicultural school settings that support healthy psychosocial development and embrace productive pedagogies for all girls and boys. - Ward

GEDUC 445 - Educational Psychology (S-1)

4 sem. hrs.

Explores ways in which seminal theories of cognitive and identity development inform and teaching in K-12 classroom settings. Students will also learn how social constructs such as race, gender, (dis)ability status, and intelligence inform opportunities and challenges associated with the teaching and learning process. Fieldwork component included. - Graves

Organizational Behavior (OB) studies how people think and behave inside any organization (i.e., for-profit, nonprofit, government). Through assessment instruments, simulations and exercises, students identify their own strengths, behaviors and preferences that impact their ability to contribute as an individual, team member, and leader. Because human systems thrive through effective communication, emphasis is placed on interpersonal, written and oral communication skills. To prepare for working in teams, thinking system-wide, and continuously improving an organization through change initiatives, the course also focuses on developing students' analytical thinking, research and influence skills as they develop a proposal for enhancing the student experience at Simmons College. Shapiro, Staff.

MGMT 340 Strategy (F-2)

4 sem. hrs. Prereq.: MGMT 100, MGMT 234, MGMT 250, MGMT 260 and Senior standing.

The primary objective of this course is to develop expertise in formulating (analysis) and implementing (action) strategy. Strategic management is concerned with achieving superior firm performance and sustaining it over the long run. Instead of focusing on a particular functional area, this course provides you with a process for problem solving and decision-making that encompasses the entire organization and requires you to integrate and apply the knowledge gained from those disciplines in order to develop an overall general management perspective. Explores crafting business strategy to gain competitive advantage through extensive readings and case analyses, using global examples and business simulation exercises. Herrmann, Staff

3 credits

This course focuses on the synthesis of nursing knowledge required to care for the patient and family with complex needs. Students will be expected to assimilate previously learned information to add the depth and breadth necessary to provide holistic care for patients across the lifespan. This course requires independent preparation and critical thinking for the synthesis and acquisition of new understanding which serves as the model for ongoing professional development of the nurse as a life long learner.

Public Health Program

This program provides a unique and challenging educational experience for students who wish to combine an interdisciplinary liberal arts education with a specialty focus on public health. The major provides conceptual foundations and empirical bases for analyzing the interplay between science, society, and health, and prepares students for a variety of public health careers. The minor provides pre-med students and other health professions students with an opportunity to augment their specialty education with this broad perspective. There is a rising demand for public health professionals, due to increased global concerns regarding infectious and chronic disease epidemiology, food and water safety, sanitation, and environmental health issues as well as health inequities. Public health professionals have excellent employment prospects as researchers, community health workers, and health program managers.

Page 252 Major Description Change

Public Health Major

Majors will complete a core consisting of 12 courses plus 3 track-specific courses and a capstone requirement, spread out across their four years. The suggested sequence for core courses is:

First Year

PH 101 Introduction to Public Health

BIOL 113 General Biology

BIOL 104 Introduction to Environmental Science

SOCI 241 Health, Illness and Society

Sophomore Year

BIOL 221 Microbiology- A Human Perspective

CHEM 109 General, Organic, and Biochemistry for Public Health

MATH 118 Introduction to Statistics or

MATH 227 Biostatistical Design and Analysis

SOCI 245 Global Health

Junior Year

Page 253 Major Description Change

Independent Learning

Students will complete a capstone requirement during their senior year, through internship and/or research activities. All students will take PH 347 (Senior Seminar) in the fall semester. In addition to taking this course, students will have a choice of completing an internship or thesis. Students who choose to do an internship will take four credits of PH 370 (Internship Seminar) in the spring semester. Students who choose to write a thesis will register for four credits of BIOL 350 or SOCI 350 (Independent Study) in the fall, and four credits of BIOL 355 or SOCI 355 (Thesis) in the spring, and will be supervised by a professor in one of those two departments who is affiliated with the Public Health program. Arrangements for satisfying the capstone requirement must be made with the student's public health advisor before the end of the junior year. This requirement will be tailored to meet individual students' interests and career aspirations.

Public Health Resources in Boston

Students will be encouraged to attend open lectures on Public Health in Boston. In addition, courses developed at Simmons will integrate guest speakers from the pool of expertise in the area.

Page 253 Minor Description Change

Minor in Public Health

The minor consists of the following five courses:

PH 101 Introduction to Public Health

BIOL 104 Introduction to Environmental Science

PH 201 Introduction to Epidemiology

BS Public Health/MS Nutrition Program

An accelerated five-year BS Public Health (Biology track)/MS Nutrition program is jointly offered by the Public Health Department, College of Arts and Sciences, and the Nutrition Department, School of Health Sciences. Students complete this accelerated BS/MS program in five years and receive a Bachelor of Science degree with a major in Public Health and a Master of Science degree in Nutrition and Health Promotion. Graduates of this program will find opportunities and careers in a variety of fields promoting health, which include research, government programs, weight loss centers, and exercise facilities. Two graduate courses, SNHS 410 Research Methods and SNHS 450 Health Care Systems: Interdisciplinary Perspectives, are taken in the senior year.

Page 253 Major Requirement Changes

Requirements for the undergraduate Public Health major and graduate degree in Nutrition:

Year One

PH 101 Introduction to Public Health
BIOL 113 General Biology
BIOL 104 Introduction to Environmental Science
SOC 241 Health, Illness and Society
CHEM 111 Introduction to Chemistry: Inorganic
CHEM 112 Introduction to Chemistry: Organic

Year Two

BIOL 221 Microbiology
MATH 118 Introductory Statistics
NUTR 112 Introduction to Nutrition Science
BIOL 246 Foundations of Exercise
BIOL 231 Anatomy and Physiology I
BIOL 232 Anatomy and Physiology II

Year Three

SOCI 345 Health Care Systems and Policy
PH201 Introduction to Epidemiology
BIOL 347 Human Development and Genetics
CHEM 223 Biochemistry
NUTR 237 The Practice of Community Nutrition

Year Four

BIOL 350/355 Independent Study/Internship (8 credits)
or PH370
PH 347 Seminar in Public Health
Biology Elective
SNHS 410 Research Methods
SNHS 450 Health Care Systems

Note that one of these courses would be taken as a fifth course during the senior year. Students need 127 unique credits to graduate with an undergraduate degree. This allows them to substitute one 3-credit course for the usual 4-credit offerings at Simmons. Since both of the graduate courses are 3 credits, then the student would have to take one of these as a fifth course, if they didn't have an extra course prior to the senior year.

Working with their advisor, a student will take SNHS 410 Research Methods and SNHS 450 The Health Care System: Interdisciplinary Perspectives during the fall and spring of senior year. Students need to maintain a 3.0 GPA to continue in the program. Please visit the Simmons College website and view the Nutrition Catalog for graduate requirements.

Page 253 Program Description Changes

BA/BS Public Health/Master of Public Health

An accelerated five-year BA/BS Public Health/Master of Public Health program is offered by the Department of Public Health. Students complete this accelerated BS/MS program in five years and receive a Bachelor of Science degree (Biology track) or Bachelor of Arts degree (Social Analysis track), with a major in Public Health and a Master of Public Health degree. Graduates of this program will find opportunities and careers in a variety of fields promoting public health and health equity through research, community health, health policy, and other avenues.

Students who take this accelerated option would take one course in the October online term, Health Equity and Social Justice (MHEO 410), which would count as an elective for the undergraduate major. In the January online term, they would take Epidemiology (MHEO 415), which would take the place of PH 201 (Introduction to Epidemiology) for their undergraduate major. Undergraduate students apply for the accelerated program in the winter of their sophomore year, before registration for the fall of their junior year. Students wishing to pursue this opportunity should contact Prof. Liz Scott, Chair of the Department of Public Health, or Prof. Shelley White, Director of the online Master of Public Health Program.

Page 258 Course Listing and Description Change

The sociology department offers students a framework to understand social issues from a grounded and critical perspective and attracts students who are committed to social justice as an intellectual and activist pursuit. Students learn ways to apply research and theoretical skills toward social equity and leadership through our curriculum. The department emphasizes critical reading, thinking, and writing. We support interdisciplinary approaches to teaching and thinking and work in collaboration with women's and gender studies, Africana studies, international relations, and related fields toward a well-rounded and rigorous liberal arts education. Sociology majors are encouraged to treat community service/activism as integral to their studies. Many of our students continue studies in sociology and related fields at the graduate level, either immediately or in the future. Sociology provides particularly good preparation for community organizing, law, public policy, social work and human services, doctoral work in sociology and related fields, and teaching at the early childhood, elementary, or college levels.

Major in Sociology

Requirements:

The major in sociology encourages each student, based on their interests, to develop a creative combination of courses from the thematic areas offered by the department. Each student majoring in sociology completes five required courses, three electives, and eight semester hours of independent learning. Students work closely with advisors in course selection and planning.

Required Courses

SOCI 101	Principles of Sociology
SOCI 239	Introduction to Social Research
SOCI 249	Inequalities
SOCI 325	Applications of Sociological Theory
SOCI 330	Transnational Studies

Generally, SOCI 101 should be completed no later than the sophomore year, SOCI 239 and 268 by the sophomore or junior year, and SOCI 325 and SOCI 330 in the junior or senior year.

Elective Thematic Areas

Choose three electives from the list below:

Social Justice courses examine social inequalities and ways that groups and communities confront injustices.

SOCI 210	Body Politics
SOCI 220	Working for Social Justice
SOCI 222	Organizing for Social Change
SOCI 231	Sociology of Childhood and Youth
SOCI 232	Race, Gender and Health
SOCI 241	Health, Illness and Society
SOCI 249	Inequalities
SOCI 262	Criminology
SOCI 263	Sociology of Education
SOCI 347	Antiracism and Social Justice

Pages 258-259 Course Listing and Description Change

Transnational Studies courses challenge inequities that result from colonial legacies, capitalism, and multiple forms of nationalism and neocolonialism.

SOCI 267	Globalization
SOCI 270	South Asia: People and Power
SOCI 245	Global Health
SOCI 330	Transnational Studies
SOCI 338	Cross-Cultural Alliance Building

Page 259 Course Listing and Description Change

Health and Well-Being courses examine the social distribution of health, illness, and health care as a consequence of unequal distribution of social resources.

SOCI 232	Race, Gender and Health
SOCI 241	Health, Illness and Society
SOCI 245	Global Health
SOCI 345	Health Systems and Policy
SOCI 365	Intimate Family Violence: A Multicultural Perspective

Cultural Practices courses emphasize the importance of culture toward a fuller understanding of our lives.

SOCI 210	Body Politics
SOCI 266	Sociology of Sports
SOCI 275	Birth and Death
SOCI 321	Sociology of Food
SOCI 344	Sociology of Poetry and Prose
SOCI 365	Intimate Family Violence: A Multicultural Perspective

Social Policy courses examine social issues and how Sociological theory and research contributes to the development of meaningful social policies to address those issues.

SOCI 231	Sociology of Childhood and Youth
SOCI 262	Criminology
SOCI 263	Sociology of Education
SOCI 321	Sociology of Food
SOCI 345	Health Systems and Policy

Independent Learning

Students may take one of the two following options:

Internship and Portfolio

In order to fulfill the Capstone requirement, students may choose to complete an internship. Internships are completed in the spring semester of the student's senior year. In the fall semester before the internship, each student will work with the internship supervisor to design an 8-credit internship plan for the following semester. As part of this requirement, students graduating in May will also take the Internship seminar. Students completing double majors who wish to do an internship will complete their internship through one of their departments.

Portfolio: All students completing their independent learning through internships will also submit a portfolio to fulfill their requirements towards the major.

A portfolio includes:

A paper from their first or second year of undergraduate study

An outstanding paper, preferably from a sociology course taken in their third or fourth year

5-page summative statement in which students reflect on majoring in sociology

Students will also present their portfolios publicly during the internship class. Students graduating in January or August are exempt from the requirement to publicly present their portfolios.

OR

Thesis

Students with a minimum GPA of 3.33 (B) or higher in their major and approval of the Sociology department may write a thesis. Completion of a senior thesis is a marker that the student is capable of performing independent research at the undergraduate level and is helpful preparation for graduate study. The thesis is an essay of 30-40 (maximum) pages that is written over the course of two semesters.

Students who wish to write a thesis must submit a three to five-page proposal, developed under the supervision of one of the Sociology Department faculty and in consultation with at least one other member of the department's faculty. The proposal is due before students register for the first semester of this yearlong process.

In the first semester, students who have obtained departmental approval to write a thesis will register for SOCI 350 (Independent Study). Students who have made satisfactory progress in the first semester will then register for SOCI 355 (Thesis) in their second semester.

Page 260 Course Listing and Description Change

Minor in Sociology

The minor in sociology consists of five courses.

One required course:

SOCI 101 Principles of Sociology

One of the following:

SOCI 239 Introduction to Social Research

SOCI 249 Inequalities

SOCI 325 Applications of Sociological Theory

SOCI 330 Transnational Studies

Three elective courses selected from thematic areas after consulting a faculty advisor in the department.

3 1 Accelerated Degree Program: BA in Sociology Master in Public Policy (MPP)

In the 3 1 program in Sociology and Public Policy, students complete the Sociology major in three years and interdisciplinary Master in Public Policy in the fourth year. Success in the program will require close collaboration with a faculty advisor, who will guide the student in careful course selection and scheduling. See page 215.

Honors in Sociology

To become a candidate for honors in sociology, a student must earn a GPA of 3.6 in sociology and either write a thesis (that earns an A- or A) or do at least two years of outstanding community service and/or social justice work. If doing a thesis, students will work with their thesis advisor from the department, in consultation with other members of the department to determine candidacy. A thesis candidate will complete SOCI 350 (Independent Study) followed by SOCI 355 (Thesis) and earn an A or A- on the thesis. Honors distinction based on community service/activism would include at least two years of outstanding service/activism and earning an A in SOCI 370. Graduation with honors in sociology is based on the assessment of the department faculty.

Alpha appa Delta

Instituted in 2007, the Simmons College Chapter of Alpha appa Delta, the U.S. national sociology honor society, gives recognition to students who maintain outstanding academic records. Students who qualify for election to Alpha appa Delta are invited by the faculty to join the chapter each spring. To be elected, students must be an officially declared sociology major, be at least a junior, have accumulated the equivalent of an overall GPA of 3.3, have a GPA of 3.0 in Sociology courses taken at Simmons College, and completed at least four Sociology courses prior to initiation (not including courses graded pass/fail). Students with questions about Alpha appa Delta should contact Professor Saher Selod, the chapter representative.

Please note: The Department of Sociology continues to support students who wish to participate in the Public Health program. Information on the Department of Public Health can be found on page 251.

Pages 260-263 Course Listing Changes

Page 264 Description Change

The goals of the Department of Women's and Gender Studies are to educate in the theoretical, empirical, and methodological perspectives for considering the status and experiences of women; to consider gender in diverse national and international contexts by studying the multiple and contested meanings and roles of gender; and to develop an understanding of how gender is related to other social categories including race, class, age, sexuality, religion, and nationality. Women's and Gender Studies courses, whether taken as part of the major or to enrich another discipline, invite students to understand past and present experiences in order to prepare for challenges and opportunities in their future personal, work, and social lives. Majoring in Women's and Gender Studies has led to careers in management, law, academia, counseling, education, library, museum or archival work, health care, social services, public administration, writing, publishing, and the media.

Learning Goals

Upon graduation students with a BA in Women's and Gender Studies will have gained the following skills, knowledge, and abilities:

Critical-Historical Awareness – Students will be adept at considering gender in diverse national and international contexts as a result of studying the multiple and contested meanings and roles of gender from an historical, a multidisciplinary, and a transnational perspective and will have developed an understanding of how gender is related to other social categories such as race, ethnicity, social class, sexuality, religion, and nationality.

Interdisciplinary Content – Students will have acquired theoretical, methodological, and empirical perspectives for studying and critically analyzing the history, status, and experiences of women from diverse backgrounds.

Disciplinary Skills – Students will be skilled at integrating theory and practice and will be able to communicate effectively in both writing and speaking.

Practical Skills – Through independent learning or internships, students will be prepared to enter the work place, graduate programs, and community-based volunteer work with an understanding of social justice issues informed by interdisciplinary scholarship and feminist perspectives.

Leadership Skills – Students will continue in leadership roles that they have either begun or further developed while at Simmons.

Laurie Crumpacker Scholars

This accelerated program for Simmons students offers the opportunity to acquire a Master's of Arts in Gender/Cultural Studies within one year after completing the undergraduate BA degree. Simmons students with a strong undergraduate record may apply to the program in the second semester of their junior year. Applicants must submit an official transcript of their undergraduate record, a statement of purpose, a writing sample, and two letters of recommendation. At least one letter should be from someone well acquainted with the applicant's academic ability and potential inquiries should be addressed to graduate studies.

Students admitted to the program begin graduate level work in the GCS program in the senior year of their undergraduate program at Simmons. Students may transfer up to 8 credits of 300-level undergraduate coursework from the GCS list of elective courses toward the degree. As students would be accepted into the GCS program prior to enrolling in these courses, they would be expected to complete work at the graduate level in these two 300-level elective courses. Students are able to enroll in 400-level GCS courses only after they have completed their BA degrees and have fully entered the GCS program.

WGST 100 Introduction to Multicultural Women's and Gender Studies (M6) (F-1,2)

4 sem. hrs.

This course briefly considers the history of women's activism, the social significance of gender and explores how gender intersects with race, ethnicity, social class, religion, sexuality, and nationality. Students examine how social forces, structures, and identities affect women's lives including issues of physical health, work, and money, and sexual self-determination. Finally, we explore the future for women and the feminist movement. Thomas, Staff

WGST 111 Introduction to Gay, Lesbian, Bisexual, and Transgender Studies (M6) (F-1,2)

4 sem. hrs.

Introduces students to the interdisciplinary field of lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender studies. Examines LGBT identity, sexuality, gender, politics, and culture from a variety of disciplinary and theoretical perspectives, including history, sociology, philosophy, and science. Grossman, Trigilio

WGST/ECON 125 Women and Work (M5) (S-2)

4 sem. hrs.

An introduction to the history of women's paid work in the United States and the ongoing challenges women face in relation to the gender wage gap, gender discrimination, gendered occupational segregation, the glass ceiling, and the "sticky floor." Emphasizes how these workplace issues are related to the considerable unpaid family responsibilities of many women and men. Students write a research paper to relate the course material to their own lives or to the lives of other women. Biewener

WGST/ENGL 193 Women in Literature (M2) (F-1,2; S-1,2)

4 sem. hrs.

Explores the writings and cultural contexts of literature by and about women from the 19th century to the present. Features novels, short stories, speeches, poems, and plays. Selected topics may include: education, friendship, sexuality, the marriage plot, labor, and protest and politics. Hager, Leonard, Staff

WGST 200 Women, Nation, Culture

4 sem. hrs.

This course focuses on issues pertinent to women's experiences in various cultural, national, and transnational contexts. We will examine how the experiences of women in these multiple contexts are located within histories of colonialism, nationalism, and societies stratified by gender, class, race, ethnicity, and sexuality. The course will emphasize the histories of women's resistance to these structures of power, thereby raising questions about the meaning and relevance of feminist perspectives. We will examine how women's experiences in these contexts inform the project of socially situated and inclusive feminisms. Readings on issues of body, gender, militarism, and violence against girls and women in South Asia, Middle East, Central America, Africa, as well as, the United States, will provide focus to the course. Thomas

WGST 204 Roots of Feminism (F-1; S-2)

4 sem. hrs.

Prereq.: WGST 100, WGST 111, WGST 125, or WGST 193 and sophomore standing.

Explores the historic roots of the demand for political, social, and economic justice for women. Studies the development of feminist theory and activism through comparative analysis. Emphasizes the diversity of feminist thought and how successive generations have revised the meaning of feminist theory and practice. Hager, Prieto

WGST/AST 210 Sisters of the African Diaspora (F-1,2)

4 sem. hrs.

An interdisciplinary lens is used to examine Black women's experiences with sexism, colorism, domesticity, sexuality, immigration, body politics, and violence. Black women from the African Diaspora (Cape Verdean, Caribbean, Afro Latina, and Black American) show how their experiences transcend national and societal boundaries, challenging common assumptions of black womanhood. Thomas

WGST 211 Gender and Sexuality (S-1)

4 sem. hrs.

Focuses on theoretical and thematic considerations of gender and sexuality, including the role of different discourses in constructing notions of gender and heterosexuality; sexuality as an instrument of power; and the links with nationalisms, queer theory, hybridities, and political possibilities. Grossman, Trigilio

WGST/ECON 214 Women in the World Economy (F-2; S-1)

4 sem. hrs.

Sophomore standing plus WGST 100, 111 or 125

A reading seminar examining the growing feminization of the global economy, along with the many strategies and activist projects women have undertaken to contend with the challenges and opportunities globalization presents to women in communities across the world. Bienener

WGST/HIST 215 Women and Gender in U.S. History Before 1890 (M5) (F-1)

4 sem. hrs.

Explores American women's diverse experiences from pre-Columbian times to 1890, as they re-envisioned their place within families and communities, entered wage work, and struggled for rights. Emphasizes women's self-representations in writing and the visual arts, as well as gender's intersections with racial, class, ethnic, sexual, regional, religious, and other identities. Prieto

WGST/HIST 216 Women and Gender in U.S. History Since 1890 (M5) (S-1)

4 sem. hrs.

Examines women's diverse experiences—for example as workers, activists, consumers, artists, intellectual, and leaders—in the United States from the Progressive Era through the World Wars, the “feminine mystique” of the 1950s, and the civil rights era. Emphasizes changing definitions of gender and how it has intersected with women's racial, class, ethnic, sexual, regional, and other identities. Prieto

WGST/AST/SOCI 232 Race, Gender and Health (M5) (F-1,2)
