

Notes

- Minors typically consist of 5 courses (20 credits).
- ECON 100 Principles of Microeconomics is required as a prerequisite for all upper-level public policy courses in economics.
- The study of public policy requires a basic grounding in economics and political science. Students also have the opportunity to explore elective topics in public policy.

Required Courses

Complete ONE of the following courses.

Course #	Course Title	Credits	Complete
ECON 100	Principles of Microeconomics	4
POLS 217	American Public Policy	4

Electives

Choose THREE additional courses from the following list.

Course Selected	Credits	Complete
	4
	4
	4

BSW 200	Social Welfare Policy
ECON 101	Principles of Macroeconomics
ECON 236	Public Economics
ECON 241	Business Competition and Antitrust Policy
ECON 247	Environmental Economics
ECON 255	Political Economy of Education
PH 345	Health Systems and Policy
POLS 101	Introduction to American Politics
POLS 212	Politics Unplugged: How Things Work in Massachusetts
POLS 227LC	Food Policy
POLS 317	Intersectionality and Public Policy
SOCI 321	Sociology of Food

Program Contact

Leanne Doherty

Chair and Associate Professor
Department of Political Science
Director of 3+1 Accelerated Programs in Public Policy
College of Social Sciences, Policy and Practice
leanne.doherty@simmons.edu
Office: L307
617-521-2581