

Call for Applications for the Simmons University Barbara Lee Family Foundation Intern Fellowship program Spring 2022

The Simmons University Barbara Lee Family Foundation Intern Fellowship program seeks to give Simmons students exposure to and education in the nuts and bolts of Massachusetts's political leadership through practical experience and therefore, increase the number of young of Simmons students who enter the pipeline of political leadership.

The grant, made possible through the generous donation of Simmons College alumna Barbara Lee, allows for a number of paid internships, open to students, from all undergraduate colleges, from all majors.

Students selected in the application and interview process, will be registered for an eight-credit internship through the Department of Political Science, and International Relations, receive a stipend of $2000 and be placed with a female legislator at the Massachusetts State House.
