SPEAKER AND HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

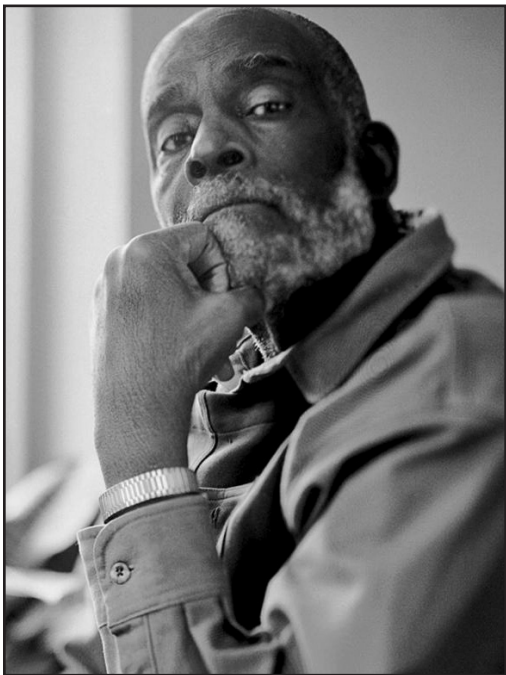

Dawn Porter

Speaker, Commencement Ceremony, Doctor of Public Arts, Honoris Causa

Dawn Porter is an award-winning filmmaker, producer, and social justice advocate. Recognized in the entertainment industry as a leader in the art of storytelling, Porter's critically acclaimed projects have impacted generations of people from all walks of life. In 2021, she directed and executive produced Oprah Winfrey and Prince Harry's documentary series on mental illness and mental well-being, "The Me You Can't See," for Apple TV+. Her latest documentary feature, "Rise Again: Tulsa and the Red Summer" (National Geographic, 2021), sheds new light on a century-old racial conflict, the two-day 1921 Tulsa Massacre. In 2020, Porter directed two critically-acclaimed documentaries, "The Way I See It" (Focus Features), a look at the American presidencies of Ronald Reagan and Barack Obama from the lens of official White House photographer Pete Souza, and "John Lewis: Good Trouble" (Magnolia Pictures), the story of the congressman and civil rights icon. A two-time Sundance film festival director, Porter discovered her passion for filmmaking following her time as an attorney. Having just wrapped a series about Title IX, she is currently in production on a series about the United States Supreme Court.

HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

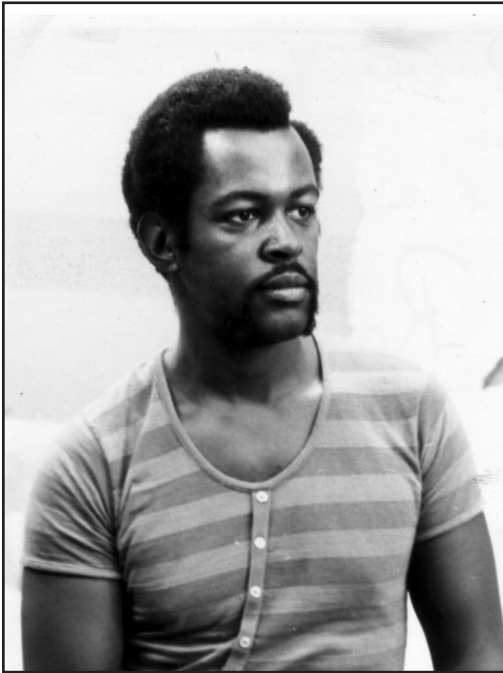

Melvin H. King, Sr.

Doctor of Public Service, Honoris Causa

Melvin Herbert King, Sr. (Mel) is a community leader, political activist, author, songwriter, youth advocate, and retired educator who has been an icon in the City of Boston for more than 60 years. Early in his career, King fought for affordable housing and services in the South End, was elected to the Massachusetts House of Representatives for the 9th Suffolk district, and later established the Rainbow Coalition Party (now the Green-Rainbow Party). For 25 years, King was an adjunct professor at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology (MIT) and established the Community Fellows Program in MIT's Department of Urban Studies and Planning. Upon retirement, he founded the South End Technology Center, a joint venture between MIT and the Tent City Corporation to improve community and youth access to technology. He retired as the director of that organization in 2019. Over the course of his career, King has been dedicated to engaging youth in STEM, providing access to professional education to citizens in underrepresented communities and citizens returning from incarceration, and recording music with student mentors at Berklee College of Music. He has authored three books: Chain of Change, Struggles for Black Community Development, which is used in many college curricula, Streets, a poem book about the streets he and others lived, worked, and played on, and Love is the Question & the Answer, a compilation of all the poems he has written. Mel is one of nine children and credits his parents' (Barbados Watts and Guyana Ursula) strong ethics of love and humanity for the person he has become. He is husband to Joyce Kenion King and father to six children: Melvin Jr., Pamela, Judith, Michael, Nancy, and Jomo.

Dana C. Chandler, Jr.

Doctor of Fine Arts, Honoris Causa

Dana C. Chandler, Jr. is a globally renowned activist, educator, and visual artist who has informed and inspired people globally with his art. Chandler's work, which has been exhibited in over 1,000 exhibitions in museums, galleries, community spaces, and government buildings worldwide, showcases his commitment to boldly confront racial inequity and injustice and expand avenues of opportunity—including his paintings and murals depicting the Black Power movement of the 1960s and 1970s. The hallmarks of his creative life are also highlighted through his thirty-four years of transformative service to Simmons University. First appointed in 1970, Chandler taught in the Art and Black Studies departments, helping bring Black art history into the curriculum. His service as faculty advisor to the Black Student Organization (BSO) also enabled him to mentor a generation of Black students. In addition, Chandler has contributed much to the Boston community as a citywide community organizer and activist for multiple organizations since his teens, on the Board of METCO, and as the Creator and Director of the African American Master Artists in Residence Program at Northeastern University.

SPEAKER AND HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

Kim Michelle Janey

Speaker, Commencement Ceremony, Doctor of Laws, Honoris Causa

Kim Michelle Janey is a groundbreaking public servant who made history as the first woman and first person of color to serve as mayor of Boston. She became the city's fifty-fifth mayor in 2021, and successfully led the city through a multitude of unprecedented challenges, including the COVID-19 global pandemic. A champion of policies that promote equity and opportunity, Janey has devoted her life to public service. In 2017, she was elected to the Boston City Council as the first woman to represent District 7 and later became president of what would be the most diverse City Council in Boston history. Janey also has more than 25 years of experience in the nonprofit sector, working as a community organizer and education advocate for groups such as Parents United for Child Care and Massachusetts Advocates for Children. Her long career in public service has been recognized with a number of awards, including the Boston NAACP Difference Maker Award in 2015 and the Sapphire Award in 2017. In addition, she was named one of Boston's Most Impactful Black Women in 2021, and one of Boston Magazine's 100 Most Influential Bostonians. A proud fourth-generation Roxbury resident, Janey at the age of eleven was on the front lines of the 1970s battle to desegregate Boston Public Schools.

SPEAKER AND HONORARY DEGREE RECIPIENT

Byllye Y. Avery

Speaker, Commencement Ceremony, Doctor of Public Health, Honoris Causa

Byllye Yvonne Avery is an American healthcare activist and leader in the advancement of Black women's health for nearly 50 years. In 1974, she co-founded the Women's Health Center in Gainesville, Florida, and four years later she co-founded Birthplace, an alternative birthing center, also in Gainesville. She went on to create the National Black Women's Health Project (now the Black Women's Health Imperative) in 1983 and remains strongly committed to her work at age 84. She has been a visiting fellow at the Harvard University School of Public Health; served on the Charter Advisory Committee for the Office of Research on Women's Health of the National Institutes of Health; been a health issues advisor for the Kellogg Foundation's International Leadership Program; and served as a consultant on women's healthcare in Latin America, the Caribbean, and Africa. She continues to gather, document, and speak on Black women's health experiences, including the racial health disparities and menstrual poverty. Her leadership and service has been recognized with a number of awards, including MacArthur "Genuis Award," the Ruth Bader Ginsburg Impact Award from the Chicago Foundation for Women, the Dorothy I. Height Lifetime Achievement Award, and the Academy of Science Institute of Medicine's Gustav O. Lienhardt Award for the Advancement of Health Care. She has received honorary degrees from Thomas Jefferson University, the State University of New York at Binghamton, Gettysburg College, Bowdoin College, Bates College, and Russell Sage College. She and her wife Ngina Lythcott '67 live in Provincetown, MA.

ACADEMIC REGALIA

In today's academic procession, the academic mace, carried by the Chief Marshal, is the symbol of the power of colleges and universities to confer degrees to candidates who have earned the privilege of the degree. The Simmons faculty, Board of Trustees, graduating students, and honorary degree recipients wear a variety of gowns, hoods, and caps. Academic regalia dates back to the earliest days of the world's universities in the fourteenth century.

The gown for the bachelor's degree is blue, has pointed sleeves, and is designed to be worn closed. The master's degree gown has oblong sleeves and may be worn open or closed. The doctoral degree gown has bell-shaped sleeves and may be worn open or closed. Doctoral gowns often correspond with the official color or colors of the college or university that conferred the degree.

Today's master's degree recipients will be wearing the hood appropriate to that degree.

Arts, Letters, Humanities – White
Business Administration – Beige
Education – Light Blue
Fine Arts – Brown
Health Sciences – Hunter Green
Library Science – Lemon
Nursing – Apricot
Physical Therapy – Teal
Public Health – Salmon Pink
Public Policy – Peacock Blue
Social Work – Citron

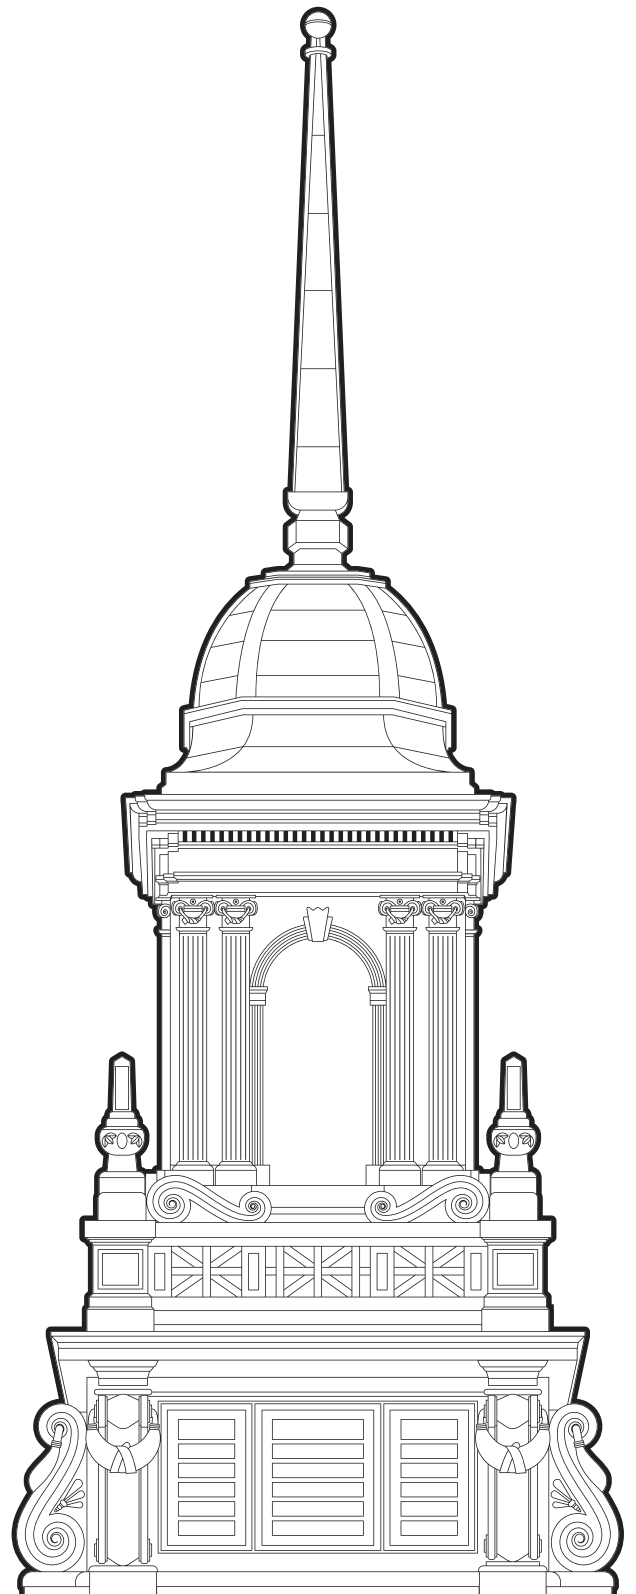

Caps, often made from different materials, always match the color of the gown. Tassels are black; in some cases, however, doctoral caps are accompanied by gold tassels. At the Simmons Commencement, bachelor's degree recipients who are members of Academy, the University's academic honor society, wear blue and gold cords. Students wearing blue, white, and gold cords are Kotzen Scholars. Bachelor's degree recipients who have achieved the academic grade point average for Latin Honors are wearing the following cords: cum laude, red; magna cum laude, silver; and summa cum laude, gold. Bachelor's degree recipients who have completed the four-year Honors program wear blue and white cords.
