NURSING

Judy Beal, Professor and Chair of Nursing

Programs Offered

Doctor of Nursing Practice (DNP)

This post-master's doctorate is designed for individuals who hold a MS in nursing from a regionally accredited U.S. post-secondary institution. The DNP is a practice-focused program analogous to professional degrees in other disciplines, including entry-level degrees (e.g., Doctor of Physical Therapy, Doctor of Dental Surgery, Doctor of Pharmacy) and advanced practice degrees (e.g., Doctor of Psychology). It differs from the PhD in its focus on practice and practice-related research.

Master of Science in Primary Health Care

The Master of Science in Primary Health Care nursing program is designed for RNs with a BA or BS in nursing or a related field. The goal is to extend the delivery of primary health care to individuals and communities by preparing nurses for advanced practice roles. In addition, the program provides graduates with a foundation for pursuing doctoral study. The following three concentrations are available:

Adult Primary Care

- Adult health
- Gerontologic health
- Occupational health
- Women's health

Parent-Child Primary Care

- Children with special health care needs
- Pediatric health
- School health

Family Primary Care

The College's educational and clinical facilities include a vast range of nationally renowned institutions, such as Beth Israel Deaconess Medical Center, Brigham and Women's Hospital, Massachusetts General Hospital, and Children's Hospitals, that are effectively utilized to prepare nurse practitioners who deliver primary health care to children, adults, and families. Other clinical practice opportunities include experience with diverse populations in ambulatory settings, clinics, occupational health units, nursing homes, and extended care facilities.

The Simmons-Harvard Dual-Degree Programs in Parent-Child Health or Occupational Health

These specialized two-year degree programs, offered by the Simmons graduate program in primary health care nursing in collaboration with the Harvard School of Public Health, prepare nurses to assume leadership positions in primary prevention and health promotion for parents, children, and workers. Applicants must apply to and be accepted separately by each institution.

Master of Science Completion Program

This program is designed for certified nurse practitioners who possess a bachelor's degree and who wish to obtain a master's degree. The program is intended for nurse practitioners previously prepared as adult, family, pediatric, women's health (OB/GYN), or geriatric nurse practitioners, and presupposes a strong knowledge base in primary care.

RN-MS Program for Diploma or Associate Degree Nurses

This program is designed for diploma and associate degree registered nurses with a minimum of one year of clinical experience and who wish to obtain a graduate degree in nursing within a nurse practitioner specialty concentration.

Direct Entry Program in Advanced Practice Nursing for Individuals Without a Nursing Background

This three-year, full-time program allows individuals who have a BA or BS in a field other than nursing to complete the requirements for the advanced practice nursing degree.

Five-Year BS-MS Program

This accelerated five-year option is for students who wish to become nurse practitioners. The length of the program is shortened one year by taking summer courses. A highlight of the program is a two-semester RN internship that allows students to practice as licensed, registered nurses prior to learning the advanced practice role.

Certificate of Advanced Graduate Study (CAGS) Program: Primary Care for Nurse Practitioners

This 31-credit-hour program is designed for individuals who hold a master's degree in nursing and who wish to expand their nursing practice in the role of an adult or pediatric nurse practitioner.

Certificate of Advanced Graduate Study (CAGS) Program: Family Health for Adult or Pediatric Nurse Practitioners

This 18-credit-hour certificate program is designed for adult nurse practitioners and certified pediatric practitioners who seek preparation as family nurse practitioners.

Certificate of Advanced Graduate Study (CAGS) Program: Occupational Health

Designed for nurse practitioners with national certification in adult or family primary care nursing, this program is for individuals who would like to change their clinical focus to occupational health.

Certificate of Advanced Graduate Study (CAGS) Program: Oncology

This certificate program will prepare students to meet the challenges of providing innovative and sensitive care to oncology patients in various health care settings. Graduates will meet the criteria to become certified Adult Oncology Registered Nurse practitioners (CRNP) as well as national certification as Advanced Oncology Certified Nurses (AOCN).

Certificate in Advanced Graduate Study (CAGS) in Health Professions Education

This program offers post-master's prepared health professionals (nurses, nutritionists, occupational, physical and speech therapists, physician assistants, or other health care professionals) the opportunity to gain critical skills in educational strategies and technology. This program can be used as a bridge to applying to the PhD in health professions education, offered by the College of Arts and Sciences.

NUTRITION

Nancie Herbold, Ruby Winslow Linn Professor and Chair of Nutrition

Programs Offered

Master of Science in Nutrition and Health Promotion

The Master of Science in Nutrition and Health Promotion program is designed for individuals with backgrounds in disciplines such as nutrition, health sciences, health education, athletic training, exercise physiology, or physical education. This graduate program builds upon the decades-long expertise of the undergraduate program in nutrition and the interdisciplinary expertise available in the other School for Health Studies graduate programs in health care administration, physical therapy, and primary health care nursing.

Combined Degree Program

The nutrition program offers a five-year baccalaureate-to-master's option for Simmons undergraduates (see Undergraduate Course Catalog).

Post-Baccalaureate Dietetic Internship Program

This national program, accredited by the Commission on Accreditation/Approval for Dietetics Education of the American Dietetic Association, is designed for students who hold at least a baccalaureate degree and who meet the Didactic Program in Dietetics (DPD) requirements of the American Dietetic Association.

Sports Nutrition Certificate

This certificate program provides the necessary preparation to take the American College of Sports Medicine (ACSM) Health/Fitness Instructors Exam. It is designed for students who hold at least a baccalaureate degree in dietetics, nutrition, kinesiology, sports medicine, or exercise physiology. This program is offered entirely online.

Didactic Program in Dietetics Certificate

Individuals who wish to become a Registered Dietitian (RD) must successfully complete these didactic courses before applying for the internship.

PHYSICAL THERAPY

Z. Annette Iglarsh, Professor and Chair of Physical Therapy

Doctor of Physical Therapy

The graduate program in physical therapy is an innovative, integrated three-year entry-level clinical doctorate program. The curriculum emphasizes an evidence-based, self-directed approach to learning that uses case studies to integrate basic science and clinical knowledge and skills in conjunction with the psychosocial, ethical, and behavioral aspects of patient care.

Doctor of Physical Therapy Bridge

This transitional graduate program is designed for practicing physical therapists who hold a U.S. physical therapy license. This program is offered completely online.

Denise M. Davis, Assistant Dean for Admission and Recruitment

Em Claire Knowles, Assistant Dean for Student Administrative Services

Terry Plum, Assistant Dean for the GSLIS at Mount Holyoke Program and Technology

Program Goal

The goal of the master's program in library and information science is to provide students with the foundation for developing careers as information professionals in:

- libraries and information centers in academic, public, school media, and corporate/special settings;
- archives management in academic, public, corporate, and independent historical society settings;
- the information services industries (which include bibliographic utilities, companies providing fee-based access to information sources, firms offering contracted research or technical assistance to individual or information centers, and companies involved in the design, development, and marketing of tools for information handling);
- information systems support (for the student with pre-existing computing experience or academic preparation, this includes working with software/hardware applications such as basic network operations, providing technical support and training, web management, developing documentation or training tools, and programming); and
- knowledge and information resources management (which includes identifying, organizing, and managing the internal and external sources necessary to help an institution or organization conduct its business).

Programs Offered

Doctoral Level

Candy Schwartz, Coordinator of Doctoral Studies

Since 1973, Simmons has offered a Doctor of Arts (DA) degree focusing on library administration. Simmons now offers two PhD options: one that emphasizes scholarship, teaching and service, and one that focuses on managerial leadership in the information professions.

PhD in Library and Information Science

This PhD program is intended for those who want to lead the way in scholarship, education, and service in library and information science. Students emerge from the program with research and teaching experience, a professional activity record, and an e-portfolio that documents their achievements and mastery of areas of study and practice.

PhD Concentration in Managerial Leadership in the Information Professions

Students in this concentration focus specifically on managerial leadership in libraries and other information institutions. The concentration supports working information managers, by strengthening their intellectual and interpersonal assets while simultaneously contributing a body of research which will improve the knowledge base and the practice of managerial leadership in the information professions. The program is characterized by flexible learning delivery options to encourage participation by candidates in full-time managerial roles who do not wish to leave their current positions to pursue a degree.

Master of Science

The Master of Science is offered on a full- or part-time basis at our Boston campus, and as a part-time program at our Mount Holyoke campus. It is accredited by the Committee on Accreditation of the American Library Association. GSLIS academic and professional preparation helps students learn to analyze user information needs and to use a variety of tools and technologies to locate, evaluate, organize, manage, and preserve information so that it becomes an accessible and permanent source of knowledge. Students can focus on areas of interest in librarianship and library science, or they can elect to concentrate in programs which have special course requirements: preservation, archives management, or school librarianship.

Archives Management Concentration

Jeannette Bastian, Director

The demand for archivists is expanding as society becomes more aware of the value of preserving our heritage. Archivists collect, appraise, and preserve documents and materials found in manuscripts, moving images and photographs, oral-history recordings, multimedia, government records, and literary correspondence.

Preservation Management

Library and archives preservation managers and collection development officers are responsible for the care of both paper-based collections and new and multimedia information. These professionals focus on preservation planning issues, such as climate and light control, security, and insurance. They also work in conservation – often with conservators, binders, and other experts – and sometimes in disaster-recovery situations after war or natural disasters.

School Library Teacher Program (SLTP)

James Baughman, Director

The SLT program prepares individuals seeking certification as school library teachers for library teacher licensure. The program includes monitored fieldwork and a school practicum at the elementary or secondary school level.

Dual Degree Programs

Several dual-degree programs are available to students interested in earning two degrees concurrently:

- Archives Management and History (MS/MA)*
- Bachelor of Science/Master of Science (BS/MS)
- Library Science and Children's Literature (MS/MA)**

Information on all GSLIS Academic Programs can be found on the GSLIS website at www.simmons.edu/gslis/.

* Applicants to the Archives Management and History dual-degree program must be admitted to both the master's programs of the Simmons College Department of History and to GSLIS. Students complete one application for admission. The Master of Arts in history is offered only in conjunction with the dual-degree program. Students who do not complete the program for the Master of Arts in history will need to seek advice on applying credits to another degree at Simmons College.

** For information on how to apply to the Library Science and Children's Literature dual-degree program, please see the information under the College of Arts and Sciences.

Admission requirements for Master of Science Programs

Applicants must hold a bachelor's degree from an accredited college or university, achieving at least a B (3.0) average. Applicants with less than a 3.0 average will be considered if they score at least 1,000 (verbal and quantitative) on the Graduate Record Examination, or hold an advanced degree with a GPA in the advanced degree that also is at least a B (3.0) average.

Continuing Education

GSLIS Continuing Education offers a variety of institutes and workshops on varying topics in information evaluation and management, technology and implementation geared toward updating the skills of librarians/information professionals, current GSLIS students, and Simmons College staff.

The Undergraduate Management Program offers a choice of four core majors and minors (finance, management, marketing, and retail management), two interdisciplinary minors (leadership and business metrics), two joint majors (arts administration and chemistry management) and a combined BA/MBA program. Management students at Simmons are enrolled in the Simmons College of Arts and Sciences. The Simmons MBA program is designed to enhance a woman's professional success in all types of organizations — from for-profit companies to not-for-profit organizations to entrepreneurial undertakings. The hallmark of the Simmons MBA program emphasizes advanced business and management skills that extend beyond the basics of a classic business degree to address the effect of gender on leadership, communication, and management. The Simmons MBA passionately honors an educational promise that places students first, delivering quality education through a personal approach to leadership and intellectual exploration. It is an empowering education for women.

Other Programs

Executive Education

The School of Management has been educating women for positions of leadership for over 25 years with executive education central to its mission. The goal has been the same from the beginning, namely to help women succeed in the world of business. Over the years, women managers and leaders have credited their Simmons experience with job promotions, expansions in role scope and complexity, enhanced influence, and increased career opportunities. With extensive experience in the design, development, and delivery of both open enrollment and customized programs, the curriculum in executive education is well positioned to meet the leadership and management development needs of women.

Center for Gender in Organizations

Patricia Deyton, Director

The Center for Gender in Organizations (CGO) at the Simmons School of Management is committed to improving organizational effectiveness by strengthening gender equity in the workplace. Integral to CGO's approach is the recognition that gender operates with other dimensions of identity such as race, class, ethnicity, and sexual identity in shaping organizational systems and practices as well as workers' experiences. CGO believes that focusing on work organizations provides a powerful lever for broader social change. This research center is an international resource to organizations, scholars, practitioners, executives, and managers in the profit and not-for-profit sectors. CGO works at the intersection of research and practice, and pursues its mission through research, consultations, education, convening, and publishing.

SCHOOL OF SOCIAL WORK

Stefan Krug, Dean

Linda Barnes, Assistant to the Dean

Carlos Frontado, Director of Admissions

Master of Social Work Program

Mission Statement

Since 1904, the school's central purpose has been the education of professional social workers. Beginning in 1904, the focus of the school was on the training of master's students. The focus later broadened to include a program in continuing education and, in 1983, a doctoral program.

Today, the mission of the Simmons College School of Social Work is to:

- excel in the delivery of an innovative education to professional social workers, preparing them for practice in a multicultural world;
- prepare graduates who are grounded in the values of social justice and committed to social action and work with oppressed and vulnerable groups;
- develop social workers for leadership roles in organizations and communities and to promote the social work profession;
- contribute to knowledge and teaching in the field through scholarship, curricular innovation, and research; and
- create partnerships and collaborations that enhance curriculum and practice with particular attention to linking with the urban communities within proximity to the school.

In recent years, the number of qualified applicants has greatly exceeded available openings. The school strongly encourages early application. Application deadlines are December 15 and February 15 for the following September.

Applicants are responsible for mailing the application packet in one unit to the Admissions Office, School of Social Work. The packet should include three letters of reference, transcripts from all colleges attended, a statement of personal and professional intent, the application fee, and completed application forms. Applicants applying for readmission must also conform to this schedule. The SSW Admissions Office strongly encourages applicants to meet with a member of the admissions team.

The school sets the following requirements for admission, some of which may be waived in very special situations:

1. Graduation from an accredited college. It is desirable that applicants have a balanced liberal arts education on the undergraduate level.
2. Evidence of the applicant's intellectual capacity to sustain rigorous academic work at the graduate level. At least a 3.0 cumulative average is required for admission.
3. Evidence of commitment to social work values, such as the dignity and freedom of every individual, appreciation of human diversity, social justice and equal access to resources, institutional responsiveness to human needs, and social change.
4. Evidence of the applicant's personal qualifications for social work, such as emotional stability, maturity, and the capacity and desire to form helping relationships.
5. Candidates are expected to have explored the field of social work and social work education. Experience in such service may have been obtained through summer employment, field experience in relation to coursework, volunteer work during or after college, and/or full-time employment in a human services field after college graduation.

Degree Requirements: Two full academic years or their equivalent in the full-time program are required for the Master of Social Work degree, unless the student has satisfactorily completed the first year in a school of social work accredited by the Council on Social Work Education. In addition, students may enroll in the extended program, completing the degree in three or four years.

A minimum of 65 semester hours is required for the degree. Candidates must demonstrate the ability to meet a high professional standard in fulfilling the requirements for the degree.
